AVAILABLE INFORMATION

The Company is not presently subject to the reporting and information requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”), and therefore does not file such reports.

RISK FACTORS

The Shares offered are speculative and involve a high degree of risk. Only individuals who are economically able to lose their entire investment and have no immediate need for liquidity should purchase these securities. Prospective investors, prior to making an investment decision, should carefully consider, along with other matters referred to herein, the following risk factors:

Development Stage Company:

Nexalin Technology, Inc. is a development stage company and its proposed operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. Its financial viability is dependent upon raising funds pursuant to this Offering and successfully implementing its business plan. Likewise, to properly market the product the Company may incur substantial research, development and organizational costs which to date have generated limited revenue from the use of its technology. Accordingly, the likelihood of success must be considered in the light of the issues, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the starting and expansion of a business and the relatively competitive environment in which it will operate. Unanticipated delays, expenses and other problems such as setbacks in product development, product manufacturing, and market acceptance are frequently encountered in establishing a new business.

Because of the Company’s limited operating history, historical financial data on which to support the planned operating expenses is likewise limited. Accordingly, our expense levels, which are to a large extent variable, will be based in part on our expectations of future revenues. As a result of the variable nature of many of our expenses we may be unable to adjust spending in a timely manner to compensate for any unexpected delays in the development and marketing of our products or any subsequent revenue shortfall. Any such delays or shortfalls will have an immediate adverse impact on our business, operating results and financial condition.

Need for Additional Financing:
We will apply the proceeds of the Offering primarily for the operation of Nexalin Technology which expects to incur substantial startup costs to market the product, including but not limited to leasing a facility and implementing our business plan. We may require additional funds to finance our operations and should funds from revenues be delayed, the funds raised under this Offering may be insufficient to satisfy further operating needs. In the event borrowing is required, we may be highly leveraged and subject to all the risks of any such borrowing. There can be no assurance that any required financing will be available on acceptable terms. See “Use of Proceeds.”

Competition:
The Company will be in competition with other more established companies using a variety of treatments for anxiety, depression and insomnia, including companies that use other electronic medical devices and companies that use drugs for the treatment of these conditions. These companies may be better capitalized and have more established name recognition than the Company. Companies such as Medtronic, Cyberonics and Alpha-Stim currently use electronic stimulation for a variety of conditions. Large companies produce products widely used for depression, including Eli Lilly’s Cymbalta. Pfizer Inc. and GlaxoSmithKline plc both manufacture drugs for the treatment of anxiety. Additionally, the Company will be in competition with alternative treatment methods such as chiropractic, holistic healers and acupuncture, which are offered to treat a variety of illnesses. There is no assurance that the Company can successfully enter and compete in this marketplace.

Government Regulations:
The Company’s current and future products and manufacturing activities are and will be regulated by the US Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") under the Medical Device Amendments of 1976 to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, the Safe Medical Devices Act of 1990 and the Medical Device User Fee and Modernization Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that the FDA will approve any other products of the Company now under development. Any significant delay in receiving or failure to receive regulatory approval of the Company's products could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations. Medical products such as those developed or being developed by the Company also are subject to testing and approval for compliance with electrical, mechanical and radio frequency (RF) emissions standards.

Risk of Defective Products and Damaged Reputation:
Highly complex products such as the Nexalin device may contain defects. If any of the Company’s products contain defects, or have reliability, quality or compatibility problems, the Company’s reputation could be damaged significantly and patients might be reluctant to use our products, which could result in the loss of or failure to attract patients. In addition, these defects could interrupt or delay clinic operations. The Company may have to invest significant capital and other resources to correct these problems. Such expenditures to correct defects and the effect on the Company’s reputation could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Company.

Risk of Product Liability:
The Company faces an inherent business risk of exposure to product liability claims in the event that the use of its technology or products is alleged to have resulted in adverse effects. To date, no claim for damages related to Nexalin has been asserted against the Company. There can be no assurance that liability claims will not exceed the coverage limits of any policies purchased by the Company or that such insurance will continue to be available on commercially reasonable terms or at all. If the Company does not or cannot maintain sufficient liability insurance, its ability to operate may be significantly impaired. In addition, liability claims could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Company.
Uninsured Loss:
The Company has general liability insurance in place, however there is no guarantee that such insurance will continue. Moreover, certain losses of a catastrophic nature such as from floods, tornadoes, thunderstorms and earthquakes are uninsurable or not economically insurable. Such “Acts of God”, work stoppages, regulatory actions or other causes, could interrupt operations and adversely affect the Company’s business.

Dependence on Officers and Directors of Nexalin Technology, Inc.:
The Company will be relying primarily on the experience and expertise of the officers and directors of Nexalin Technology, Inc. who have experience in the manufacturing and marketing of Nexalin Technology. The loss of any of Nexalin’s officers and directors who are experienced in the Nexalin technology could adversely affect the proposed operations of the Company.

Rapid Technological Change:
The medical device industry is characterized by rapid and significant technological change. There can be no assurance that the Company’s competitors will not succeed in developing or marketing products or technologies that are more effective and/or less costly and which render the Company’s products obsolete or non-competitive. In addition, new technologies, procedures and medications could be developed that replace or reduce the value of the Company’s products. The Company’s success will depend in part on its ability to respond quickly to medical and technological changes through the development and introduction of new products and to successfully market these products. There can be no assurance that the Company’s new product development efforts will result in any commercially successful products. A failure to develop and successfully market new products could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of operations of the Company.

Best Efforts - No Minimum Offer:
The Shares are being offered on a “best efforts, no minimum” basis. Therefore, we plan to use proceeds as they are received without establishing a minimum level of subscriptions or establishing escrow. There is no assurance that all, or a substantial portion, of the Shares offered hereby will be sold and that the estimated net proceeds generated from such a sale will be sufficient to commence or continue our proposed operations. Investors should therefore be aware that if only a small number of Shares are subscribed, there may not be sufficient funds available for us to accomplish our business objectives. See “Use of Proceeds.”

Arbitration:
Any dispute arising out of or relating to an investment in the Company must be handled in accordance with the rules and regulations of the American Arbitration Association, said arbitration to be binding on the parties. Additionally, each investor hereunder will be waiving the right to seek damages, the right to trial by a jury and other potential remedies that otherwise may be afforded by law. See Exhibit A - “Subscription Agreement.”

Reliance on Outside Contractors or Consultants:
We will rely on the experience of contractors or consultants who may work full or part time for us. In the event that one or more of these contractors or consultants terminates its relationship with the Company, or becomes unavailable, suitable replacements will need to be obtained and there is no assurance that such replacements could be obtained under conditions favorable to us.

Dilution:
An investment in the Shares will result in an immediate substantial dilution of the net tangible book value of the Shares from the Offering price per Share. Dilution is a reduction in the value of a purchaser’s investment, measured by the difference between the purchase price and the net tangible book value of the Shares after the purchase takes place. The net tangible book value of a Share represents the amount of our tangible assets less the amount of its liabilities, divided by the number of outstanding Shares.

No Assurance of Revenues:
There can be no assurance that our proposed operations will result in continued revenues or sufficient revenues to enable us to operate at profitable levels or to generate positive cash flow. As a result of the Company's limited operating history and the nature of the markets in which it competes, the Company may not be able to accurately predict its revenues. Any failure by the Company to accurately make such predictions would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition. Further, the Company's current and future expense levels are based largely on its investment plans and estimates of future revenues. The Company expects operating results to fluctuate significantly in the future as a result of a variety of factors, many of which are outside of the Company's control. Factors that may adversely affect the Company's operating results include, among others, demand for the products of the Company, the budgeting cycles of potential customers, lack of enforcement of or changes in governmental regulations or laws, the amount and timing of capital expenditures and other costs relating to the expansion of the Company's operations, the introduction of new or enhanced products and services by the Company or its competitors, the timing and number of new hires, changes in the Company's pricing policy or those of its competitors, the mix of products, increases in the cost of raw materials, technical difficulties with the products, incurrence of costs relating to future acquisitions, general economic conditions, and market acceptance of the company’s products. As a strategic response to changes in the competitive environment, the Company may from time to time make certain pricing, service or marketing decisions or business combinations that could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition. Similarly, any seasonality is likely to cause quarterly fluctuations in the Company's operating results. Therefore, the Company may be unable to adjust spending in a timely manner to compensate for any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Arbitrary Offering Price:
The offering price of the Shares was arbitrarily determined and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the assets, book value, earnings (loss) or our net worth and should not be considered to be an indication of the actual value of the Company.

Control of the Company:
The Common Stock offered hereby will not represent a minority of the Company’s outstanding stock after its issuance. However, once combined with prior common stock investors, it will be a part of the majority interest in the Company. Accordingly, cash investors of this round and prior rounds of funding will be able, by virtue of their voting control and stock holdings, have a major influence on those elected to the board of directors who in turn can control the Company’s affairs and policies. As a result, these stockholders will possess significant influence over the Company, giving them the ability, among other things, to elect a majority of the Company’s Board of Directors who will have the power to approve significant corporate transactions.

Limited Transferability:
The Shares purchased pursuant to this Offering will be restricted from resale. Although the Company may register the Shares once earnings, net asset value and elapsed time in business criteria have been met so as to qualify the Company for listing on a stock exchange and registration with the Securities Exchange Commission, no assurance can be given that such an event will take place. Until that time, there will be no market for the Shares issued in this Offering. The Shares will not be transferable without the express written consent of the Company, approval to be granted upon determination by the Company as to the suitability of the transferee.

Absence of Public Market; Non-Transferability and Non-Liquidity of Investment:
The Company’s Shares are not being registered under the Securities Act or the Securities laws of any other appropriate jurisdiction in reliance on exemptions from such registration requirements. The Shares may not be resold or otherwise transferred unless the Shares are later registered under the Securities Act or the Securities laws of any other appropriate jurisdiction, or unless an exemption from such registration requirements is available. Accordingly, an investor may be unable to liquidate his or her Investment in the Company and should be prepared to bear the economic risk of an investment for an indefinite period. In addition, an investor should be able to withstand the total loss of his or her investment.
Broad Discretion of Management in Use of Proceeds:
The Company expects to use the net proceeds for general corporate purposes, including working capital, capital expenditures, promotional and marketing expenditures and to fund anticipated operating losses. It is also moving forward with several major projects to expand the Nexalin Treatment Centers across the USA. Nexalin will also be moving forward with. In addition, the Company may use an unspecified portion of the net proceeds to acquire or invest in complementary businesses, products, intellectual property and technologies if a favorable opportunity to make such an acquisition or investment arises. In the ordinary course of business, the Company expects to evaluate potential acquisitions of businesses, products and technologies, which complement the Company's business model. In addition, from time to time, the Company will evaluate the usage of the Company's cash to determine whether the then existing uses and apportionment should be changed. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Company's use of proceeds will strictly adhere to those uses described in this Memorandum and elsewhere, as the Company's circumstances may materially change. Accordingly, the Company’s management will have broad discretion in the application of the net proceeds. The failure of management to apply such funds effectively could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Limited Protection of Technology and Trademarks:
The Company's success depends significantly upon proprietary technologies. The Company will seek to protect its formulations, software, documentation and other written materials under trade secret, patent and copyright laws, but these laws afford only limited protection. The Company generally enters into confidentiality or license agreements with its employees, suppliers and consultants, and generally controls access to and distribution of its documentation and other proprietary information. Despite these precautions, it may be possible for a third party to copy or otherwise obtain and use the Company's proprietary information without authorization or to develop similar technology independently. Also, there can be no assurance that patents owned by other entities, whether existing, pending or not yet filed, will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to do business. Effective trademark, service mark, copyright and trade secret protection may not be available in every country in which the Company's services are distributed or made available, and policing unauthorized use of the Company's proprietary information is difficult and expensive.

Legal standards relating to the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of certain proprietary rights in similar businesses are uncertain and still evolving, and no assurance can be given as to the future viability or value of any proprietary rights of the Company. There can be no assurance that the steps taken by the Company have prevented or will prevent misappropriation or infringement of its proprietary information. Any such infringement or misappropriation, should it occur, might have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, litigation may be necessary in the future to enforce the Company's intellectual property rights, to protect the Company's trade secrets or to determine the validity and scope of the proprietary rights of others. Such litigation might result in substantial costs and diversion of resources and management attention and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Risk of Intellectual Property Infringement:
There can be no assurance that the Company's business activities will not or have not infringed upon the proprietary rights of others, or that other parties will not assert infringement claims against the Company, or that the Company’s patent and other intellectual property rights will not be challenged and ultimately invalidated. From time to time, the Company may be subject to claims in the ordinary course of its business including claims of alleged infringement of the trademarks, service marks and other intellectual property rights of third parties by the Company and the content generated by its members. Such claims and any resultant litigation, should it occur, might subject the Company to significant liability for damages and might result in invalidation of the Company's proprietary rights and even if not meritorious, could be time consuming and expensive to defend and could result in the diversion of management time and attention, any of which might have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition.
Forward Looking Statements and Associated Risks:
This Private Placement Memorandum contains certain forward-looking statements, including among others: (i) the projected time for commencing operations; (ii) anticipated trends in the Company’s financial condition and results of operations; (iii) the Company’s business strategy for its plan of operations; and (iv) the Company’s ability to distinguish itself from its current and future competitors. These forward-looking statements are based largely on the Company’s current expectations and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. Actual results could differ materially from these forward looking statements. In addition to other risks described elsewhere in this “Risk Factors” discussion, important factors to consider in evaluating such forward-looking statements include (i) changes to external competitive market factors or in the Company’s internal budgeting process which might impact trends in the Company’s results of operations; (ii) anticipated working capital or other cash requirements; (iii) changes in the Company’s business strategy or an inability to execute its strategy due to unanticipated changes in the industry in which we will operate; and (iv) various competitive factors that may prevent the Company from competing successfully in the marketplace. In light of these risks and uncertainties, many of which are described in greater detail elsewhere in this “Risk Factors” discussion, there can be no assurance that the events predicted in forward-looking statements contained in this Private Placement Memorandum will in fact transpire.

IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING RISKS, BUSINESSES ARE OFTEN SUBJECT TO RISKS THAT ARE NOT FORESEEN OR FULLY APPRECIATED BY MANAGEMENT. POTENTIAL INVESTORS SHOULD KEEP IN MIND THAT OTHER MATERIAL RISKS COULD EXIST OR ARISE THAT HAVE NOT BEEN CONTEMPLATED.

REGULATORY ISSUES

Introduction:
All of Nexalin’s pilot and pivotal clinical trials were conducted in accordance with the Helsinki Agreement. The countries that signed the Helsinki Agreement include, but are not limited to, the United States, Russia, Canada and the European Union. Nexalin is currently preparing for additional clinical trials and studies in various locations within the United States.

Early TESA/ Nexalin FDA Clearance:
The FDA cleared a version of the Nexalin device (“originally TESA”) on July 21, 2003 (#510(k) K024377) for the treatment of anxiety, depression and insomnia, concluding TESA is “substantially equivalent” to other cleared predicate devices.

Clinical Studies, Safety, Efficacy, ISO, CMDCAS, Insurance and More:
All of the US designed studies were properly-blinded, randomized, placebo controlled and included baseline, treatment and follow-up phases using FDA guidelines: 1) Guidance for Clinical Data to be Submitted for Premarket Approval Application for Cranial Electrotherapy Stimulators; and 2) General Considerations in the Design of Clinical Studies for Pain-Alleviating Devices.

Safety and Effectiveness of Nexalin:
The Nexalin device incorporates several features to insure patient safety
- Output current passes through a charge-blocking capacitor insuring zero-net DC output in case of failure
- Nexalin monitors output current and voltage to control the output waveform and precisely limit delivered current
- An internal microprocessor calculates electrode impedance and activates an alarm for poor skin contact
- Treatment delivery is monitored if electrode impedance goes outside of acceptable range. A risk management file in accordance with ISO 14971 confirms Nexalin’s safety features.
- The Risk Management Report, the Risk Analysis and the FMECA demonstrate the inherent safety features of Nexalin’s design and were part of the verification, validation and acceptance of the design.
European Union:
The CE Marking by the European Union’s Notified Body, SEMKO, has been transferred to Spiritus. This is significant because we expect to have the approval to distribute the Nexalin product throughout the European Union in the near future. Nexalin is in the process of getting the CE marking reinstated. The distribution approval process currently requires reinstatement of the CE mark with filing fees to the EU for 2013 and 2014.

Russia:
Russia has issued Nexalin a ten-year clearance for the general practice of medicine and an accompanying certification that should be extended every two years. This clearance is not limited to the treatment of anxiety, depression, insomnia or the relief of pain associated with osteoarthritis.

Australia:
Australia has cleared the Nexalin device as a brain stimulator for most medical purposes.

Mexico, Philippines, Qatar, Japan and Korea:
Nexalin intends to expand into these markets and has initiated the regulatory process review to determine how to move forward in each of these countries.

SUMMARY OF MATERIAL AGREEMENTS

The License Agreement between Spiritus and Nexalin:
Nexalin Technology Inc. entered into a License and Distribution Agreement whereby Spiritus Group, Inc. licensed to the Company the right to distribute the Nexalin® Therapy products that utilize its patented electrostimulation technology (the Nexalin® Therapy). The agreement provides a payment of a Licensing Technology royalty fee to Spiritus Group, Inc. in the amount of five percent (5%) of Gross Revenues. The License Agreement has a term of three years with renewal provisions, but can be terminated for cause which includes non-payment of royalties or the insolvency of our Company.

(d) Material Changes in Representations. Subscriber will notify the Company immediately of any material change(s) in any statement made herein occurring prior to the closing for the purchase by Subscriber of the Subscribed Securities.

3. Indemnification.

Subscriber hereby agrees to indemnify and defend (with counsel acceptable to the Company) the Company and its directors, officers and other shareholders and hold them harmless from and against any and all liability, loss, damage, cost or expense, including costs and reasonable attorney’s fees, incurred on account of or arising out of:

(a) Any breach of or inaccuracy in Subscriber’s representations, warranties or agreements;

(b) Any disposition of any of the Subscribed Securities contrary to any of Subscriber’s representations, warranties or agreements herein; and damages or redress from the Company or any director or officer of the Company under any securities law, or (ii) any disposition of any of the Subscribed Securities.

4. Miscellaneous.

(a) Preparation of Agreement; Costs and Expenses. This Agreement was prepared by the Company or its legal counsel solely on behalf of the Company. It is acknowledged by Subscriber that such party was not represented by the Company or any of its officers, directors, employees or agents (including the Company’s legal counsel) in connection with the transaction contemplated by this Agreement, and that Subscriber had separate and independent advice of counsel. In light of the foregoing, it is acknowledged by Subscriber that the Company shall not be construed to be solely responsible for the drafting hereof, and that any ambiguity in this Agreement, or the interpretation thereof or hereof, shall not be construed against the Company as the alleged draftsman of this Agreement. Except as expressly set forth in this Agreement, each party shall pay all legal and other costs and expenses incurred or to be incurred by such party in negotiating and preparing this Agreement, in performing any transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and otherwise complying with such party’s representations, warranties, covenants, agreements and conditions contained herein.

(b) Interpretation.

(i) Survival. All representations and warranties made by any party in connection with any transaction contemplated by this Agreement shall, irrespective of any investigation made by or on behalf of any party hereto, survive the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the performance or consummation of any transaction described in this Agreement, and the termination of this Agreement.

(ii) Entire Agreement/No Collateral Representations. Each party expressly acknowledges and agrees that this Agreement including all exhibits attached hereto: (1) is the final, complete and exclusive statement of the agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, (2) supercedes any prior or contemporaneous agreements, proposals, commitments, guarantees, assurances, communications, discussions, promises, representations, understanding, conditions, conduct, acts, course of dealing, warranties, interpretations or terms of any kind, oral or written and that any such prior agreements have no force or effect except as expressly set forth herein and (3) may not be varied, supplemented or contradicted by evidence of prior agreements, or by evidence of subsequent oral agreements. No prior drafts of this Agreement and no words or phrases from any such prior drafts of this Agreement shall be admissible into evidence in an action or suit involving this Agreement.

(iii) Amendment: Waiver, Forbearance. Except as expressly otherwise provided herein, neither this Agreement nor any of its terms, provisions, obligations or rights contained herein may be amended, modified, supplemented, augmented, rescinded, discharged or terminated (other than by performance), except by a written instrument or instruments signed by all of the parties to this Agreement. No waiver of any breach of any term, provision or agreement herein contained, or of the performance of any acts or obligations under this Agreement, or of any extension of time for performance of any such acts or obligations, or of any rights granted under this Agreement, shall be effective and binding unless such waiver shall be in a written instrument or instruments signed by each party claimed to have given or consented to such waiver and each party affected by such waiver. Except to the extent that the party or parties claimed to have given or consented to a waiver may have otherwise agreed in writing, no such waiver shall be deemed a waiver relinquishment, as the case may be, of any other terms, provisions, agreements, acts, obligations rights granted under this Agreement, or any preceding or subsequent breach thereof. No forbearance by a party to seek a remedy for any noncompliance or breach by another party hereto shall be deemed to be a waiver by such forbearing party of its rights and remedies with respect to such noncompliance or breach unless such waiver shall be in a written instrument or instruments signed by the forbearing party.

(iv) Remedies Cumulative. The remedies of each party under this Agreement are cumulative and shall not exclude any other remedies to which such party may be lawfully entitled.

(v) Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall, to any extent, be determined to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable under present or future laws effective during the term of this Agreement, then and, in that event: (1) the performance of the offending term or provision (but only to the extent its application is invalid, illegal or enforceable) shall be excused as if it had never been incorporated into this Agreement, and, in lieu of such excused provisions as may be possible and be legal, valid and enforceable, and (2) the remaining part of this Agreement (including the application of the offending term or provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable) shall not be affected thereby and shall continue in full force and effect to the fullest extent provided by law.

(vi) No Third Party Beneficiary. Notwithstanding anything else herein to the contrary, the parties specifically disavow any desire or intention to create any third party beneficiary obligations, and specifically declare that no person, other than as set forth in this Agreement, shall have any rights or remedies of any nature or kind whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

(vii) No Reliance Upon Prior Representation. Each party acknowledges that no other party has made any oral representation or promise which would induce them prior to executing this Agreement to change its position to its detriment, partially perform or part with value in reliance upon such representation or promise; each party acknowledges that it has taken such action as its own risk; and each party represents that it has not so changed its position, performed or parted with value prior to the time of their execution of this Agreement.

(c) Enforcement.

(i) Applicable law. This Agreement and the rights and remedies of each party arising out of and/or relating to the Agreement (including, without limitation, equitable remedies) shall be solely governed by, interpreted under, and construed and enforced in accordance with the laws (without regard to the conflicts of law principles thereof) of the state of California, as if this Agreement were made, and as its obligations are to be performed, wholly within the state of California.

(ii) Binding Arbitration. In the event that a dispute arises out of or concerning this Agreement or an investment relating to matters contained in the Agreement or the Subscribed Securities, such dispute shall be handled in accordance with the rules and regulations of the American Arbitration Association. Any aforesaid arbitration shall be held in Orange County, California, the results of which shall be binding on all parties. Each party generally and unconditionally accepts the exclusive to venue jurisdiction of such arbitration and, consents to the service of process in any such action by certified or registered mailing in accordance with the notice provisions of this Agreement, and waives any defense or right to object to venue in said courts based upon the doctrine of “Forum Non Conveniens”.

(iii) Waiver of Right to Jury Trial: Punitive Damages. Each party hereby waives such party’s respective right to a jury trial of any claim or cause of action based upon or arising out of this Agreement. Further, Subscriber waives any claim to punitive damages. Each party acknowledges that this waiver is a material inducement to each other party hereto to enter into the transaction contemplated hereby, that each other party has already relied upon this waiver in entering into this Agreement, and that each other party will continue to rely on this waiver in their future dealings. Each party warrants and represents that such party has reviewed this waiver with such party’s legal counsel, and that such party has knowingly and voluntarily waived its jury trial rights and any potential claim to punitive damages following consultation with legal counsel.

5. Transferability.
   The Subscriber agrees not to transfer or assign this Agreement, or any of the Subscriber’s interest herein and further agrees that the assignment and transferability of the Subscribed Securities (unless subsequently registered) will be made only in accordance with this Agreement. The Company will issue stop transfer instructions to any transfer agent with respect to the Securities and will place the following legend or a legend similar thereto on the certificates representing such Securities:
