Codicil form: Making a change to your will

(England & Wales)

In the future, we'll still be as passionate about pets as we are today, and thousands of sick, injured and homeless pets will continue to rely on us.

Help us care and let your love of pets live on, by including Blue Cross in your Will. More than half of our income comes from legacies, so your gift will be absolutely invaluable.

It's easy to add Blue Cross to your Will

You can do this by adding a codicil now – following the example overleaf.

A codicil is a written amendment to someone's Will, saving the need to re-write the whole document. It should be signed, dated and witnessed with the same legal formalities as a Will.

How to complete your codicil form

So that your codicil is valid, please follow these steps:

- Step 1 look at the example overleaf to help you complete your codicil form.
- Step 2 sign each page in the presence of two witnesses*, who should both sign the form as shown too. Your witnesses can't be direct family members (including your spouse/civil partner) or those who stand to benefit from your Will or your codicil.
- Step 3 keep your codicil safe, storing it with your current original Will (but do not staple or attach it in any way).

We recommend that you seek the guidance of a solicitor when you make your Will or codicil, so that your intentions can be fully carried out.

Suggested wording

You can remember the Blue Cross with a specific cash sum (pecuniary legacy) or part of your estate (residuary legacy). And you can leave the gift for general use, or for use at a centre you specify. Please choose the appropriate wording:

To leave a pecuniary legacy (specific cash sum)

I give to Blue Cross, registered charity number 224392 (England and Wales) and SC040154 (Scotland), of Shilton Road, Burford, Oxfordshire, OX18 4PF the sum of [insert your amount in figures and words] and I express the wish (but without imposing any binding obligation) that such estate be used for the general purposes of Blue Cross.

OR

the benefit of its centre at [insert name and address of centre]. The receipt of a Duly Authorised Officer of Blue Cross shall be a good discharge to my trustees for the gift.

To leave a residuary legacy (to include part of your estate)

I give to Blue Cross, registered charity number 224392 (England and Wales) and SC040154 (Scotland), of Shilton Road, Burford, Oxfordshire, OX18 4PF [enter your percentage] per cent of my residuary estate and I express the wish (but without imposing any binding obligation) that such estate be used for the general purposes of Blue Cross.

OR

the benefit of its centre at [insert name and address of centre]. The receipt of a Duly Authorised Officer of Blue Cross shall be a good discharge to my trustees for the gift.

A note about residuary gifts: this type of gift is a share of what remains in your estate after debts, legacies and administration expenses have been paid. They are extremely valuable to Blue Cross but they can be more complex when it comes to tax, for instance. So we suggest you take advice first.

*The law is different in Scotland where only one witness, over the age of 16, needs to sign the form.
